

Portuguese nanotech priorities

Portugal hopes to stimulate initiatives in three key areas during its stint in the EU's Presidency seat: publishing and scientific information; nanosciences and nanotechnologies; reform and modernisation of universities.

The launch of the Seventh Framework Programme (FP7) for research has provided an opportunity to take a fresh look at EU science policy.

For further information click HERE